FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Free Earth Week Green Fair and Market in Bergen County, NJ April 27th, 2014

The B Hive Organic Salon to host second annual Earth Week Event

On Sunday, April 27, 2014 The B Hive Salon along with the Hillsdale Environmental Commission will host its Third Annual Earth Week Event. This year will be an outdoor Green Fair and Market. The B Hive is Bergen county's first organic full service boutique salon specializing in ammonia free hair coloring and organic styling in an eco friendly venue that is as healthy as it is beautiful. Come visit us for our Earth Week Green Fair and Market where we will have great products such as local honey, handmade candles and body products, henna and tattoos and organic hair extensions and braid bar.

"We continue to spread as much great information as we can to our local community whether it is about beauty products, eco-practices or just being better to our planet."
Owner and operator Angela Alba

Join us for a fun day of events for the whole family. The Green Fair will begin at 10:00am until 3:00pm at Veterans Park next to the Hillsdale Train Station. Enjoy kids yoga from the Little Shanti Yoga Studio, gardening with Health Barn USA, a live Bird show at 11:00am from the Tenaflly Nature Preserve and live music by School of Rock in Waldwick. Also featured will be Habitat for Humanity of Bergen County, MEVO of Mahwah with their live bees, and the new Tesla Model S.

Consumers interested in healthy, innovative, organic hair care products and color performed by Certified Organic Colorists can call The B Hive Salon at 201-470-HIVE to make an appointment. Salon professionals can inquire as well for info on certifications and employment opportunities.
